Rork Achieves FSC Accreditation

Rork Projects Pty Ltd (Rork) is proud to announce our accreditation under the Australian Government Building and Construction OHS Accreditation Scheme (FSC). Rork has now joined a distinct list of accredited companies that have shown the leadership in safety that will ultimately lead to improved OHS performance in the construction industry. This accreditation combined with third party accreditation (AS/NZS ISO 9001:2008, ISO 31000 & ISO 14001) effectively acknowledges that Rork operates its business and project delivery within the guidelines of the highest possible OH&S, Quality, and Environmental standards in Australia. Only principal contractors accredited under the scheme can enter into contracts valued over $3 million for building work that is funded directly or indirectly by the Australian government.

Rork Managing Director, Brian O'Rourke, said that said he was very pleased to attain the accreditation, that it reflected the company's commitment to the way projects are delivered. "We take health and safety very seriously," he said, "and while we already have an excellent track record for safety, it was imperative for us to gain this additional accreditation to continue our growth".

We look forward to the further opportunities this accreditation will provide to Rork and its subcontractors and suppliers.
